

This handsome young man is in kennels and looking for his new forever home.

Cole is just 20 months and an absolute star. He has had a little training while in the kennels and has very good recall. He has been taught to sit, stay, down and to walk to heel off lead. He picked all these up with ease and would be fantastic to take further with obedience training, trials or agility. He would also be ideal for anyone who wants a constant companion at home or at work as he is very loyal and is happy to chill while you get on with whatever you are doing. Everyone at the kennels find him very friendly and easy to handle once he has been properly introduced to you. He has strongly bonded with one person and would adore having an owner who is as devoted to him as he would be to them. He is black and semi coated. Until coming into kennels Cole had not had much socialisation; he had been kept in an older couple's kitchen and garden until coming to the rescue, so was very wary of strangers, but has learned to get used to new people very quickly. He gets very excited when he sees other dogs but has never shown any signs of aggression when meeting other dogs and is regularly walked with another GSD, who he adores. Cole is a very intelligent dog and in the right hands would blossom and continue to train up well.

He can be seen at kennels in Aberdeenshire.
